Lenine Says Object Is Uprising in Every Land

BERLIN, Aug. 21.-The newspapers of Petrograd publish speech by Nikolai Lenine, Soviet Premier, in Moscow, in which he expressed an uncompromising policy toward foreign countries, according to advices received to-day.

Lenine declared Russia must continue to foment revolution in all countries until she achieves her aim, which is an international "proletarian soviet republic." Asia and the East are the chief present hope of Bolshevism, Lenine continued, and it is there that Russia must show her strength. He declared that in England the worst foe of Bolshevism was the opportunist, aristocratic working class, and Soviet Russia's aim should be to strengthen the Communist minority against this class.
